Purpose

In order to deliver our vision and help children to live happy, fulfilled lives, we need to recognise the crucial role of behaviour regulation. Children are taught and supported in developing self-discipline and self-regulation strategies, so that they are able to live, learn and play happily and peacefully with others and flourish in a calm, safe, positive environment.

The governors have a high level of expectation regarding behaviour.

Guiding Principles

- For most children, developing self-regulation is a growing process and requires considerable nurturing.
- We believe that children want to behave well and as they practise good behaviours over time, these become habits that positively shape how they feel about themselves and how other people perceive them.
- Our first step is to create an environment in which good behaviour is the norm and poor behaviour cannot flourish. We “get in front of” behaviour and pre-empt poor behaviour
- Consequences are used to encourage children to reflect on, take responsibility for and adapt their behaviour.
- All staff have responsibility for modelling and promoting good behaviour everywhere in school.
- Positive reminders and rewards are given frequently.
- We identify why behaviour is unacceptable and follow an agreed procedure for dealing with this.
- We focus on the behaviour being unacceptable, not the child.
- It’s the school rules that punish the child, so there’s no need to shout or be intimidating.
- Punish in private and praise in public wherever possible.
- All staff are responsible for applying this policy.
- We recognise where children may be affected by SEND, trauma or attachment issues, or by any issues detailed in our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy, and differentiation to the Behaviour policy will be made.
- Good relationships with children and families are essential.

Our daily work includes the teaching and reinforcement of these concepts from our Mission Statement:

All children will have:

- Outstanding teaching, delivered by ambitious and driven professionals who fundamentally share the school's aspirations for our learners, in order to ensure that we all flourish as individuals and achieve our fullest potential.
- Awareness that the wellbeing of everyone is important. Whatever an individual's place in school, their place is a safe and important one. We take care of each other, support one another in whatever way is needed and show compassion to our school family, our families at home and to those in our community.
- The ability to develop their own ethics, values and beliefs. The school will provide an open, safe and enquiring environment for spiritual development. We will provide a coherent and relevant understanding of Christianity and an understand of the need to live well together with people of all faiths and none.
- High aspirations for themselves. We will provide a feeling of empowerment to all, with opportunities to take charge and a full understanding of how to be positive agents for change in our school family and the wider community.
- Confidence to take risks and to be unafraid to try and fail, to persevere, to make courageous decisions and ask difficult questions. We will support others on their journey to achieve this.
- A sense of belonging. We will provide everyone with the knowledge that they are safe and valued for who they are. Everyone will be treated with respect and dignity and those values will be a driving force in our teaching. We will represent these values in the wider community.
- An understanding of ourselves. We will help each other understand who we are, our feelings and behaviours. We will make positive choices; treating others the way we would want to be treated.
- An understanding of the world, locally nationally and globally. We will equip everyone with the opportunity to take lessons from the past, to understand the present and to positively influence their futures. We will have the confidence to shine our individual light in times of difficulty and uncertainty.
- Opportunities to discover the things we like. We will nurture the discovery of what we are good at and how to pursue individual goals and aspirations.

- Understanding that it is important to attend school and to be ready to participate, learn and embody the school's vision and mission.

Dealing with sensitive situations

Incidents relating to ongoing issues with a child that need recording (for example, incidents between two children that do not warrant sanctions, but give extra evidence and a broader picture for multi-agency meetings, etc.), should be reported to the headteacher and recorded on CPOMs.

If a child confides that they have been / are being bullied, any incidents between them and the alleged bully should be reported on CPOMs.

Where there is a dispute about what has occurred, it is up to the judgement of the class teacher based on their knowledge of the children whether to record when the victim claims intent, the perpetrator claims accident, and there are no other witnesses.

When dealing with difficult or dangerous situations, staff are advised to ask another member of staff to accompany them for support and as a witness.

Behaviour Curriculum

The curriculum is taught explicitly during the Autumn term and revisited and reinforced throughout the year in the same way as learning in any other subject. Staff will also consistently model these behaviours and ensure that pupils have opportunities to practise them, especially at the start of new terms. It is expected that all children will know the Behaviour Curriculum content.

How do we teach the Behaviour Curriculum?

- Agree the routines and expectations that we want to see
- Communicate these in detail to children and adults so that they are completely understood
- Practise the routines in different contexts, in and out of the classroom and in and out of school, until everyone can follow them
- Consistently and constantly model, reinforce and monitor routines and expectations.

- Bullying can be indirect, eg leaving people out of groups or games / talking about them behind their back / carrying messages
- Bullying is unacceptable and will always result in a serious consequence.
- Bullying should always be reported

Reporting

All children know:

- the difference between reporting and telling tales
- how to report worries to an adult and what should happen as a result
- what to do if they think a problem hasn't been dealt with
- that accusing someone of "telling tales" will result in a consequence (the adult will decide whether it is a tale or a reportable incident)

Uniform

All children know:

- we wear uniform as it is smart and practical and helps give a sense of belonging to our school community.
- what school uniform consists of
- what PE kit consists of

- Shoes are placed on the benches underneath the coats.
- We go straight to our classroom and start the work the teacher has set

End of day

Attendance and Punctuality

All children know that:

- You must try and attend school every day
- You must arrive on time and start work straight away.
- Attending school on time every day is important so that you do not miss learning.

Consequences

All children know that:

- What we mean by unacceptable behaviour
- If they choose unacceptable behaviour, there will be a logical consequence

We do not have “class charters,” individual class rules etc.

Unacceptable Behaviour

As per the 2023 Child on Child Abuse Policy:

Physical abuse A form of abuse which may involve actions such as hitting, throwing, burning, drowning and poisoning, or otherwise causing physical harm to another child.

Sexual abuse including violence, harassment, online abuse and sharing of imagery

Harmful Sexual Behaviours Our school has a zero-tolerance approach to any harmful sexual behaviour involving children and acknowledges that it could be occurring at schools and in our school communities. The school is proactive in its approach to assessing prevalence, responding to incidents and challenging and changing behaviour. Schools have a statutory duty to safeguarding the children in their setting. We work together to foster an environment that creates healthy relationships for children. Our approach encourages healthy relationships and works to prevent harmful sexual behaviour. We provide high quality education within the curriculum to reduce the likelihood of the situations occurring. We recognise that harmful sexual behaviour is harmful to both the child/children affected by the behaviours and the child/children who displayed the behaviour and provide ongoing support for all involved. Our approach is to treat everything as a safeguarding incident in the first instance - we distinguish between behaviours that are exploratory and part of healthy age and ability appropriate development and those that may be harmful. As a school, we provide regular opportunities for school staff to understand what harmful sexual behaviours might look like and what they should do in the event of a report. We do this by providing training and regular updates where possible and using the NSPCC Traffic Light tool: Responding to children who display sexualised behaviour (nspcc.org.uk) We also use the RSHE/PSHCE curriculum to help educate students about these issues as well as regularly reminding and promoting the reporting routes within our schools to ensure they know what to do should an incident occur. In addition to the above, further information is available from the North Yorkshire Safeguarding Partnership

Bullying of any kind, including physical, emotional, verbal, and online. We define this as persistent targeting of an individual with intent to harm. Bullying outside of the school premises, if witnessed by or reported to staff, will be dealt with as per this policy.

Online abuse This involves the use of technology and the internet in order to harass, threaten or intimidate another child

Discriminatory behaviour – this is abuse inflicted on a pupil because of their protected characteristics, e.g. age, sex, gender reassignment, disability, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation.

Other unacceptable behaviour:

- Damage to property
- Distraction of others by silly or inappropriate behaviour which hinders their own and others' learning
- Swearing or other offensive language; speaking disrespectfully to pupils or staff
- Refusal to follow reasonable instructions from staff
- Behaviour which causes a safety hazard to others
- Bringing items likely to cause harm into school, including:
 - Weapons, eg knives
 - alcohol
 - illegal drugs
 - stolen goods
 - tobacco products, eg cigarettes
 - pornographic images (of any kind, eg tabloid topless pictures and 'lads' mags' as well as extreme adult material)
 - fireworks
 - anything that has been, or is likely to be, used to cause injury or commit an offence

A search will be carried out if staff have reason to believe your child is in possession of such an item and it will be confiscated if found.

- electronic devices, including phones, smart watches or anything capable of recording audio / video or taking pictures, or for searching the internet.

- Contact with parents to devise an action plan for tackling persistent unacceptable behaviour

Staff and Pupil Induction

All staff or others who work with children are made aware of this Behaviour Policy on arrival at school. Behaviour training is included in our CPD plan for the year, including how to meet the needs of children with additional barriers to good behaviour.

All children are involved in agreeing class standards of behaviour at the start of the school year and teachers make expectations and consequences clear. Any new child joining the school will have expectations and consequences made clear as part of settling in to their new class.

Additional Behaviour Support

We recognise where unwanted behaviour may be a result of SEND, trauma or attachment issues, and differentiation to the policy will be made. Additional training will be provided if required in how to make adjustments. The headteacher will provide guidance for staff and oversee any individual behaviour plan.

The headteacher will work with other agencies to support behaviour, including for children with a social worker, a Child in Need plan, a Child Protection plan or are Looked After. For Looked After children, the headteacher will work with the Virtual School Head and update the Personal Education Plan if required.

The Use of Reasonable Force

Please refer to the Positive Handling Policy 2023

Monitoring Behaviour in School

The headteacher will monitor through observation of children and staff throughout the school day and through scrutiny of behaviour reports from staff. This will be reported half termly to the full governing body.

Supporting the Behaviour Curriculum: Staff Actions

Pre-emptive strategies: get “in front of” behaviour

Explicit teaching and continual, consistent active reinforcement of behaviour curriculum, including CW, Achievement Assembly, PSHE and other subjects.

Consistent, active supervision and monitoring of behaviour

Be ready and present for children; greet them at the classroom door

Use targeted praise to specifically highlight desired behaviour, for example: “Well done for walking in so quietly,” “Thank you for listening carefully,” “You are working so well and not distracting anyone – well done”

Give clear instructions which state the required behaviour, eg “Walk in school,” “Use a quiet, indoor voice,” rather than, “Don’t run!” or “Don’t shout!”

Model kind, safe, respectful words and actions at all times. Model good emotional regulation – speak calmly, use positive language, stay factual, don’t lecture.

Activities to give children a strong sense of belonging to the community.

Take responsibility for implementing any individual behaviour adjustments or plans

Be vigilant and build relationships with all children and families. Communicate praise and success.

Know where children may be affected by SEND, attachment or trauma issues, and implement any adjustments agreed.

Look for “teachable moment”

If behaviour is not as expected, then your first step is to give the child the chance to choose the right behaviour.

Remind child what they should be doing and give them chance to do it.

refer to Behaviour Curriculum and reinforce expectations.

Help child use any individual strategies that have been agreed

Model good emotional regulation – speak calmly, use positive language, stay factual, don’t lecture.

You may also:

use emotion coaching: help child understand their emotion / give them strategies to deal with it.

Use consequences

If reminder has not worked, or behaviour is more serious, then consequences follow:

Consequences means: Logical Consequences. This is a sanction that should “fit” the offence, remind children of expectations and offer alternative behaviours.. It may include missing playtime, a time out from lessons, being sent to the HT, making an apology.

Give immediate Consequences for rudeness / swearing / refusing to follow instructions / damaging property / deliberate disruption

Follow any individual behaviour plan

Model good emotional regulation – speak calmly, use positive language, stay factual, don’t lecture.

You may also:

-inform parents
- discuss with SENCo

Involve Others

If behaviour continues or is more serious (eg bullying / hurting another person (whether or not intent can be proved) / severe swearing or verbal abuse/ throwing object with intent to harm / spitting / abuse of protected characteristic / threatening behaviour or language / complete non-compliance after previous strategies used:

More serious Logical Consequences eg internal exclusion, removal of privileges, exclusion from treat activities etc, plus option of:

Parents’ meeting

Work with outside agencies

Behaviour plans / home-school Agreements

Work with SENCO

IEP / EHCP

As a last resort: Fixed term or permanent exclusion

NB: racist incidents must be reported separately to the headteacher.
